Fall Managed Care Forum Approved for CCM Credits

Richmond, VA—September 19, 2007: In addition to nursing continuing education credits and CMCN credits, the Fall Managed Care Forum has been approved for credits towards the Certified Case Manager (CCM) credential.

The Commission for Case Management Certification (CCMC) has approved the pre-conference activity for 5 Clock Hours towards recertification requirement and the Fall Managed Care Forum for 14.50 Clock Hours towards recertification requirements. This approves the three day program for a total of 19.5 CCM clock hours.

CCMC believes that the key to its certification is the ongoing professional development and continuing education of its certificants. To learn more about the CCM certification, visit www.ccmcertification.org.

The Fall Managed Care Forum was also submitted to NAHQ for CPHQ credits and to McKesson for CPUR/CPUM credits. The American Association of Managed Care Nurses (AAMCN), which co-sponsors this conference, hopes to receive approval for both CPHQ and CPUR/CPUM accreditation within four to six weeks.

The Fall Managed Care Forum is being held November 8-9, 2007 at Paris Las Vegas in Las Vegas, NV. A Nurse Pre-Conference will take place at the same location on November 7th. Attendees at this conference will include nurses, medical directors, physicians and healthcare administrators with health systems, integrated healthcare delivery systems, PHOs and IPAs.
